BIG Changes Coming to the WPWA Campus by Denise Poyer

If you visit our campus this summer you will notice lots of changes. WPWA is upgrading the property with a two-phased project that will create a more useable space while improving protection of the river. The majority of funding for this project comes from three sources. The Champlin Foundations has provided funding for Phase I, which will serve as a match to The Rhode Island Department of Environmental Management’s (RIDEM) funding of Phase II. Funds to support the project’s indirect costs have been provided by WPWA and The Lattner Family. Other local non profits such as Habitat for Humanity, Boy Scout Camp Yawgoog, and the Hope Valley Wyoming Fire Department have also benefited from our project.

Due to the timing of the grants, we will be breaking the project into two phases. Phase I will begin on April 11th, just after Opening Day of Trout Fishing Season and will end in late May. According to Program Director, Denise Poyer, “the Arcadia Road campus sees a lot of traffic during the warm weather months. Between public use of the fishing and boating access and all the programs WPWA conducts it has become necessary to upgrade our facilities. The renovations will better serve everyone who uses the WPWA campus.” The campus will be an active construction site for about a month and sections of the driveway and parking areas will be disturbed. While the office will be open most days, we recommend you call before your visit.

In November 2010 WPWA received a grant from the Champlin Foundations for Phase I to install a new on-site wastewater treatment system and a drilled well that would service both the office and Education Center (currently our middle building), and to demolish the residential building at the front of the lot. During the project planning it was determined that removing the residential house would significantly reduce the cost of a new septic system and would allow for expanded public parking. With the front building gone, WPWA would be a more inviting site if specifically landscaped for recreational and educational use.

This phase was designed by Cherenzia Engineering of Pawcatuck, CT and they will oversee the installation of the new systems. Wilco Development of Johnston, RI has been contracted to complete all the construction under Phase I. WPWA Executive Director Chris Fox has high praise for this family owned business who in 2009 diligently repaired the Bradford Fish Ladder and portage path on behalf of WPWA. “With the construction of the Horseshoe Falls Fish Ladder dominating my schedule, I needed a contractor for this campus project that has proven to be efficient and diligent.” Fox said.
AMC, Narragansett Chapter Announces Appie of the Year!

The Appie of the Year Award is the Appalachian Mountain Club (AMC), Narragansett Chapter’s highest award. It is presented at the group’s Annual Meeting to the AMC member who best exemplifies the mission of the AMC to “promote the protection, enjoyment, and wise use of the mountains, rivers, and trails of the Appalachian region”.

The AMC presented this award to recognize Denise Poyer’s volunteer efforts and successes, to reinforce AMC ethics and culture and to inspire others to emulate the group’s most generous and productive members.

After leading a number of local hikes, Poyer began leading for the Backpacking and Northern Hikes committee in 1998. She has led or co-led at least 65 activities for Northern Hikes alone. Most of these activities were weekend long endeavors, involving planning, logistics, and provisions for food and lodging, and the safety and enjoyment of participants on hiking trips in the mountains of the northeast. She has taught numerous workshops, including: hiking, backpacking, winter hiking skills and safety, map and compass and outdoor leadership.

Poyer is an active and effective member of the Northern Hikes committee, developing and mentoring aspiring leaders for the Club. She is often among the first to volunteer to help out with activities and workshops for the Narragansett chapter.

Since 2005, Poyer has been an instructor at the Club’s Mountain Leadership School. AMC’s premier outdoor leadership training program consists of 5 days of experiential learning including a back pack in New Hampshire’s White Mountains.

Poyer also leads flat water paddling trips and is an ACA certified instructor. Each year she organizes the popular ‘Source to Sea’ paddling trips on Rhode Island’s Wood and Pawcatuck Rivers. She also leads family events and natural history tours and is a member of the Trails Advisory Committee.

As a professional environmental educator, Denise teaches countless natural history courses to children, adults and teaching professionals, and is a former board member of the New England Environmental Education Alliance.

AMC’s 2011 Appie is also the volunteer Chair of the Richmond Land Trust, successfully arranging for the purchase and management of conservation lands within the town. Her volunteer duties include selecting sites, negotiating with landowners and other stakeholders, obtaining support of state and local governments, securing funds and procuring the properties, leveraging with other environmental organizations such as the Nature Conservancy, and supervising the development of management plans and hiking trails.

WAY TO GO, DENISE! WE’RE PROUD OF YOU!

WATERSHED WATCH NEEDS YOU!

It’s spring and that means that WPWA and URI Watershed Watch are looking for volunteers from the community to help us with water quality monitoring in the Pawcatuck Watershed. There are lake and pond sites, which will require a boat to conduct collections, and river and stream sites, which will not. Watershed Watch Volunteers are typically assigned a local waterbody and asked to visit it at least every other week from May to October. If this seems like too big of a commitment we often have returning volunteers who are looking for others to share the schedule. Classroom training is scheduled for April 17 at 1 pm or April 26 at 2 pm, both at the URI Kingston Campus. Field training takes place in May. Water quality collections begin the week of May 19. For more information contact Elizabeth M. Herron, Watershed Watch Program Coordinator at 401-874-4552 or email emh@uri.edu. You can also learn more from their website www.uri.edu/ce/wq/ww/. You may also contact Denise Poyer at WPWA with any questions.

“With Wilco working under Denise’s (Poyer) supervision I should have little distraction from building the state’s most complex fish passage structure in Shannock, RI this summer.”

For Fall 2011’s Phase II, RIDEM secured a grant on behalf of WPWA from the US Fish and Wildlife Service’s Wildlife and Sportfish Restoration Program. We were able to utilize some of the Champlin Foundation’s private funds from Phase I to serve as the required 25% match towards the publicly funded federal grant. This grant will support the creation of an expanded permeable public parking area, landscaping, the installation of rain gardens, and a composting toilet for public use. WPWA’s offices are generally closed on the weekends eliminating access for members to our restrooms. The new Clivus composting toilet will provide round the clock relief to our members and the public alike.

Once the invasive plants are removed and the native plantings in the rain gardens are installed they will begin absorbing runoff from both Arcadia Road and the parking areas preventing storm water from reaching the Wood River. Frank Crandall, formerly of Wood River Evergreens and author of The Essential Horticultural Business Handbook, is volunteering his time to WPWA lending guidance for the landscape design so that it will be both functional and aesthetically pleasing.

This second phase of the project will give our beautiful campus on the Wood River a pleasant park-like atmosphere and assist our mission of promoting and protecting the river. We ask for your patience during construction. Please feel free to contact the WPWA office with any questions or to make a donation toward our new Comolli Granite sign. Visit us anytime at www.wpwa.org and have a great summer!!
This edition of WPWA’s Kid’s Corner features information about Spring! Please spend a few minutes with your child to read the article and poem together before they do the activities.

After a long, snowy winter, Spring is finally here! Although many growing things are beginning to come up through the soil, there is something else that really tells us that spring has sprung - Spring Peepers! Spring Peepers are frogs that live in marshy woods often near ponds and swamps. They are usually brown, but they can be grayish and yellow, too. They have light colored bellies and have a dark colored ‘X’ on their backs. They blend in really well with tree bark and with piles of leaves on the ground. Peepers are very small but they have BIG voices! They make most of their noise during the evening and nighttime hours. They use their vocal sacs to make a high pitched call that sounds like the peep of a chick.

IN THE HEART OF A SEED
By Kate Brown
In the heart of a seed,
Buried deep, so deep,
A dear little plant
Lay fast asleep.

“Wake,” said the sunshine,
“And creep to the light.”
“Wake,” said the voice
Of the raindrops bright.

The little plant heard;
And it rose to see
What the wonderful
Outside world might be.

Find your way to the flower garden and then color the picture!
Is Your Lawn & Yard Care River-Friendly?

Sprucing up the lawn and yard is part of spring for most homeowners and often that means using fertilizers and pesticides. Unfortunately, those lawn care chemicals can seep into groundwater wells where even small amounts are undesirable. They can also wash into nearby wetlands and streams where eventually they end up in the Pawcatuck River and Little Narragansett Bay. Excess nutrients from fertilizers fuel rampant growth of algae and nuisance weeds making swimming undesirable and degrading fish habitat.

This year re-think your lawn care routine and consider using the latest “green” methods. Here are a few tips for a healthy lawn that will be safe for kids and pets, and will keep local waters clear and blue.

Avoid using fertilizers or pesticides near wells or within 75 feet of wetlands and waterways.

Most established lawns need little or no fertilizer. If you must fertilize, September is the best month and once a year is enough.

If you must fertilize in the spring, wait until you have mowed the lawn three times when grass is actively growing and using the nutrients.

More is not better! Apply fertilizers and pesticides only as directed.

Skip the “step programs” offered by many lawn care companies, since these often contain herbicides and pesticides you might not need. Hand pick weeds when possible, and if you must treat weeds or insects with pesticides, spot treat them rather than applying to the entire lawn. Always use slow-release fertilizer. It is unlikely to run off from healthy, established turf. The label will read: slow release, time release, or slowly available nitrogen. Most liquid fertilizers are quick release.

Consider using organic fertilizers such as bone meal, blood meal, compost, or organic blends. These can still add nutrients to local waters so check be sure to follow the manufacturer’s directions for application rate and timing.

Check the weather forecast before applications, and don’t apply fertilizers or pesticides when heavy rain is predicted.

When establishing a new lawn use “elite” seeds mixes that require less water and fertilizer using fescues rather than Kentucky Bluegrass. Endophyte-enhanced seed varieties contain a fungus that makes them more resistant to stresses like disease, pests and drought. Contrary to popular belief “URI #2 lawn seed” is not endorsed by URI and is not a higher quality “elite” seed mix. Spending a little more on high quality seed will pay off over the long run with a higher quality, lower maintenance lawn.

If you use a lawn care company, ask them about their environmental options and certifications.

In January of this year, WPWA received a donation of an S1800 Finepix camera from Fujifilm. Gordon Tubbs, a FujiFilm employee nominated WPWA to receive the free camera, under the company’s Cameras for Causes program. Gordon’s daughter, Noella Tubbs, works for RIDEM Aquatic Invasive Program and suggested us to her dad. WPWA would like to thank Fujifilm, Gordon and Noella. This excellent camera will come in handy for our many programs and research projects.
